The auditor gencral reports about 30% of the 1930 state property tax returned unpaid. That means nearly $10,000,000 in experted income, corporation and advalorom taxes have also fallen off. The deficit left by Gov. Green is now figured at $6,700,000. This will have to be paid first. Then Gov. Brucker in his inaugural address said he hoped to keep the 1932 state property tax under $29,500,000, which was the amount granted Gov. Green by the legislature of 1929. Since then the finance committee of the House and Senate have worked diligently, trying to achieve that laudable result But even by putting off many needed repairs and improvements, and cutting every possible expense, a high-

The Junior Play, annual dramatic Junior class, was a real success, and the Class of '32 showed that they may be few in numbers but willing in spirit. Under the capable direction of Miss Norrine Berry the activities of the elusive Peggy provided real entertainment last night.

This play, a light-hearted comedy, deals really with a pair of Peggys, who keep the cops guessing-other things as well—until the scene. Second-Story Peggy, thief, is safe from detection, while Peggy. disguised heiress, has the police chasing her up and down a highly im-portant fire escape. Each gets her eward, the one a trip down the river which is no excursion, the other the heart of Billy Durand who has unin, for complications, one most talkative landlady, a sister of the runaway heiress and her recently acquired fiance, and two cops. Mix well, grind in the mills of the Gods, and extract an evening's entertainment. If you don't get that result you weren't in the high school building

HOW THE SCHOOLS OF TOMOR ROW WILL SURPASS THOSE OF TODAY

A national survey recently conduct ed under the auspices of the N.E.A. asserts that the opportunity for education is not equal throughout the United States and that in many sec ions children are handicapped greatly by improper and inadequate facil ities. The rural children, generally speaking, have a shorter school term, a less thoroughly trained teacher an incomparably more meager school equipment, than the city child. Some ommunities make excellent provision for the education of their children; others unwillingly meet the bare legal requirements. Substantial progress is being made to equalize concitions and the schools of tomorro will be administered and financed in such a way as to eradicate these differences in opportunity.

Here are some of the definite predictions concerning the schools of

(1) They will make an earlier start to reach children before they have attained the age of six years. Adopton of nursery schools as a part of the public school system is expanding rapidly.

(2) They will keep their doors open longer to give year-round service. The average school year increased from 130.3 days in 1880 to 171.5 days in 1928. Some states, however, still have terms about the 1.00 level of 145 days. New Jersey, which offers 188 days of school a year, provides as much schooling in nine years as South Carolina, with 146 day annual term, does in eleven and

(3) They will protect the entire child labor. During 1927-1928 the survey discloses that approximately 2,000,000 children of school age were not in school.

(4) They will lift the teaching profession to a higher level. Training will become more scientific and the standards of selection more rigid (5) They will offer equal oppor tunities for all children. Accidents

The Passing of Time

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"In all the actions that a man performs," an ancient writer says, "some part of his life

passeth. We die with doing that for which only our sliding life was granted. Nay though we do nothing, Time keeps his constant pace, and files as fast in idleness as in em ployment. Wheth er we play, or labor, or sleep, or dream, or study, the Sunne posteth

GARDEN HINTS HINTS ON TRANSPLANTING

Use Of Proper Tools Important

When transplanting seedlings from flat, hotbed or cold frame to the open garden, use the garden trowel. Plants that have been grown in individual bands or pots can be set out just as soon as the weather is warm, danger of frost is past, and the soil has been prepared. Open bottom bands can be buried in the garden without removing the plant. Small pots are easily shaken out by turning over and striking the edge upon some solid

Seedlings taken from flats or from the seed bed and being moved to their permanent lo-cation in the garden, can best be handled with a garden trowel. As much of the soil about the roots should be moved as will achere to them. Three or four trowelfuls of earth should be removed at the place in the garden where the plant is to be set. Very ine top soil, preferably that taken from a compost heap, if one has been made, should be placed over the bottom of this shallow

The seedlings being transplanted should next be placed, being held upright by the left hand while the roots are being apread out and the soil which was taken from the hole, replaced around the plant. Each plant should be copiously watered after transplanting, then protected from the drying action of sun and wind for several days, (Courtesy "True Temper" Garden Book.)

..... Tomato Plant in Band

When transplanting seedlings grown in this way to garden, bands can be buried in the soil without disturbing the roots.

Good trowels will stand many years of hard use. They are forged from one solid piece of steel.

Farm Notes

Commercial fertilizers won't give satisfactory results in the garden unless the soil is well supplied with humus and moisture. Turning under green crops or coarse manure will furnish humus and increase the moisture-holding power of the soil.

Cutting too much pulpwood without an assured market is risky for the farmers, according to the Vir-Schroeder and wife, and Mrs. George ginia extension forester. If the wood Wicks and son being with others to is not sold, it will be only a few enjoy the social hours and a fine months until decay sets in, and much work and wood will be wasted.

> Poultry manure is a good fertilizer for the farm garden, but it is so rich in nitrogen that it may burn the roots of shrubbery, trees, flowers, or vegetables if placed in direct contact with the roots or spread on the surface in considerable quantities. Don't Aspires to Be Second Mussolini; He Hates Women and They Love Him.

New York.-Adolph Hitler, the man who, aspiring to become the Mussolini of Germany, has put Europe on edge by his announcement of a political program that would inevitably precipitate war, is an old-fashioned politician. He has built up a party of six and one half millions by the time-honored method of making speeches.

Hitler doesn't think much of books and pamphlets and news organs as winners of converts to his cause. His method is to go from beer garden to beer garden and talk directly to the men he is trying to influence. He believes in personal politics.

Yet, although he depends contact, he is not a man of inspiring appearance. He is thin, almost to the point of emaciation; he is nervous, and looks overworked. But when he speaks his eyes blaze with fanatic zeal.

"He utterly despises women," says the Review of Reviews, "and he gives them little chance for power in the party. Yet they adore him. Der Schoene Adolf,' they call him, and flock to his support at the polls

"He speaks with perfect self-control," the Review of Reviews says but his words are uttered with such fervor that he easily sways the emo-tions of an audience. For the old, he recalls the golden days of the fatherland. He appeals to their sentimental pride. But it is youth that idolize Hitler. The young people, who did not fight in the war, voted five million strong for their hero."

The Senate is now attracting the measure, passed by the House last week by a vote of 54 to 33. The general belief seems to be that the measure will not be passed by the Senate but the demand for additional sources of revenue to supplement the property tax is such that considpressure may be brought to The companion measure introduced by Rep. Thomas, providing for an income tax on corporations and repealing the present corporation tax was passed over when it was reached in the House, to await action at a later date.

Provision for distributing the in come tax receipts towards an equalization of the school taxes served a two-fold purpose-first it would eliminate the possibility that the measure would be subjected to a referendum, not possible where a law is an appropriation measure; also it servattract votes necessary for its passage in the House, several mem-bers admitting they voted for it because it would provide funds for their

Sales Tax Loses

Sponsors of the McBride-Dykstra sales tax bill are awaiting a favorable opportunity to bring the measure up again after its defeat last week by a 48 to 47 vote, three less than needed to pass it. Heated debate featured the discussion of the measure. Opponents directed much of their fire against an organizer of the Home Defense League, an organization of independent merchants. They took exception to his lobbying methods. One important amendment, offered by Rep. Haight of Lansing was approved, clarifying the graduated method of taxing gross retail same time, Rep. Johnson's bill to place taining 20 per cent alcohol through sales, starting with $3.00 for the 1 tax on the same product struck a barrage of sharp-shooting. It was sent to the Senate by a vote of 54 half mill on business up to $400,000 and then stepped up until 10 mills would be paid on the $100,000 above a million-dollar business. Proponof the measure were confident that they had sufficient votes to pass the sales tax bill but when it came to a vote, it was three short of the required majority.

Reapportionment Up Again. After having successfully disposed of the congressional reapportionment on the house calendar passed.

A new approach to the taxation problem was started last week in a roposal to dip into the state highway funds for relief of the rising al bill. burden on general property. The move may take the form of a onecent increase in the gasoline tax, which would bring $7,000,000 in revenue, or diversion to the general fund of $7,000,000 of the weight tax. The first definite step was taken when Rep. Barnard, of Jackson, in-troduced a bill in the house proposing that $7,000,000 be taken from the icense fund to pay the general fund leficiency. Introduction of this measure caused some concern among those interested in the Dykstra and Mc-Nitt-Holbeck bills which have passed the house and are in senate commitin city limits, and the second for state control of township roads.

The United States Joins Great Britain and France in Recognizing the New Spanish Republic-Hoover Upsets Coolidge Precedent.

With the United States, Great Britain, France, and smaller reseveral publics of the world according the new government at Madrid, headed by Nice Alcala Zamora. formal recognition Spain's republican existence has come promptly into being.

The recognition of the Spanish republic by the British government served to clear the way for similar action by the United States.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson instructed the American ambassa-dor to Spain to advise the republican government of the action taken by Recognition by the United States was said to have been hastened by the consideration, urged by President Za-mora, that a general recognition of the new government by the great powers will tend to strengthen it at home and enable it to maintain order. Although Ambassador Irwin B.

Laughlin is to continue at Madrid for tion there will depend upon his acceptability to the republican govern ment. There have been reports that the ambassador, who is a Pittsburgh steel millionaire, has publicly expressed a low opinion of the republicans forming the new government. The provisional government an nounced it would recognize all debts of the monarchy. This resulted in strengthening of stocks and securities on the exchange. THE federal farm board during the week announced its decision to offer for sale on the European market as rapidly as possible the huge sur-plus of wheat acquired under the wheat stabilization operations of 1930-81. It has been estimated the surplus of such wheat controlled by the board-will be approximately 275,000,000 bushels by July 1, next, The board is of the opinion that such sales can be made without depressing domestic wheat prices. The government purchases were made at an average price of about 92 cents a bushel, and the estimate has been made that the board might suffer a s as high as 50 per cent in sales on this wheat if made in Europe at the present time.

Advice to farmers to store their grain on the farm is extended. It will cost about one-third of the regular carrying charges, if the wheat is stored on the farm itself. The attempted solution of the problem so far as the board has worked it out appears to be that the board is going to try to unloud its surplus when and where it can, so far as it can without bring ing about too great a slump in the
